

APPENDIX A

This normative appendix contains the digital geologic map symbols and their descriptions, their cartographic specifications, and notes on their usage. Please see also Plates A and B, which contain colors and patterns for use on digital geologic maps.

Please refer to the accompanying introductory text for technical specifications used in the preparation of this standard, as well as guidelines on symbol usage, color design, and map labeling. The introductory section also contains tables showing conversion values from inches to points to millimeters, abbreviations used in the standard, and spot color specifications and their equivalent colors in other color models.
